Starting a career in retail fashion
Posted by safeera01 - 2007/07/05 10:56

Hi i'm a recent graduate and wish to start a career either in design or buying. I have done the usual like agency and recruitment websites for job vacancies, drapers record etc. But feels like every application I have sent has been electronic with annoying automated responses. Is this normal for the industry? Are there any other ways I can look for jobs?

==========

Re:Starting a career in retail fashion
Posted by JenniferHolloway - 2007/07/16 07:58

Do you fancy doing work expereince with us first and see how you like it??

We are opening a boutique in Barking as well as our boutique in Croydon.

Why don't you send an email into hayleigh@fashion-enter.com and let's see if we can meet up with you and yes its normal to get these responses and its depressing too! Hang in there!

Jenny

==========

Re:Starting a career in retail fashion
Posted by Abyerley - 2007/07/25 15:53

I am looking for some one to help me with my desginer label...I can't pay much but I am interested?

Plse reply if its still of interest

Andrea

==========