
Seeking Innovative Designers

Posted by ecominded - 2008/01/04 11:51

We are currently seeking innovative fashion designers and artists with a strong sensibility for eco fashion, textiles and crafts. We are currently building a data base of talent to participate in a new venture for social and environmental benefit. Selected participants will be evaluated on uniqueness, quality and potential. Please submit images of your work and a blurb about yourself. To Jena at eco.minded@hotmail.com

Hi Jena,

Your project sounds really interesting and we are committed to featuring more info and news on the eco fashion sector. Why not send a press release or additional info to me at jojo@fashioncapital.co.uk and we can upload to other key areas of the site.

Regards,

JoJo

Thank-you JOJO, we will most certainly send a press release and additional information about our company. As I am sure you are aware timing is everything... At present we are focusing on recruiting more designers for our venture. We will be holding a go-see in London in the future, however at present we are sourcing designers on-line. Do you have any other recommendations?
