
Fashion PR and Catwalk Production

Posted by fashionisawayoflife - 2008/01/06 20:17

We currently have a vacancy for a reliable and hardworking work experience applicant.

Excellent writing skills, conversational skills, internet and research skills are required, including an excellent knowledge of the fashion industry.

Must own a computer/laptop and have internet use 24/7.

A minimum of 4 A Level qualification Grades A - C are also required.

The work required is highly important to the running of the company and applicant will have important tasks at all stages.

Flexible hours and location to suit applicant. However London accommodation is vital, because applicant will be required to attend meetings in London.

Work Experience runs till the completion of the project (approx March/April) After successful completion a detailed reference will be provided, and a gift.

Please email CV including a passport photo to: rachelandfamily@hotmail.co.uk

=====

Re:Fashion PR and Catwalk Production

Posted by michellesadlier - 2008/01/09 16:02

Dear Sir/Madam,

I will moving to London the second week of Februrary and will be seeking experience in the Fashion PR industry. I have many years of experience in the fashion industry on a customer service, management and visual merchandising level. However, I would like to move in to the PR industry where I can both demonstrate my communication skills and my passion for the fashion industry. When are you looking to fill the position? Please see my CV and profile photo on this website.

Kindest Regards,

Michelle

=====