I am an art director looking for 2 art assistants.

The job is styling an event for a london paper brand in central london. You need to have a good knowledge of set dressing and styling. You will also need to be able to work under pressure and to strict deadlines. The job is a one day styling job with a few meetings beforehand. Some prep work might also be needed. Though this job is only a one day job I am looking for art assistants to work with on a regular basis as well. I work with an events company on their press days etc so there is future opportunities for other work.

Pay for this is £12 per hour on event day. Then for prep days if needed would be £100 per day.

Please send examples of work and your CV to simonhatterdesign@yahoo.com
