Is there any companies out there looking for an out worker in alterations or dressmaking services. I am a fashion designer in womens wear, looking for extra freelance work in alterations for women, men and children. I offer services where I can collect the necessary work and deliver. I offer advice on fabrics and styles to suit the individual person, I do the fittings and make sure that you look great in what ever outfit it may be. I am based in London so can travel within the central london areas. I offer very reasonable rates for alteration and dressmaking services and all work is finished to a very high standard. Please contact me to discuss further.
