
Quality CMT unit in London

Posted by Bino - 2007/02/08 14:29

We make small runs for designers. We have been in business for years and years and we can make samples but we prefer to make 50 units to up to 300. We can do any woven and soft type of garment.

We are at Florentia Clothing Villaage. We are honest and true at what we do.

You shouldn't give up on the UK production scene. For niche markets its alive and kicking and you will be amazed how competitive we are.

Dear Bino,

Please could you notify me on emily@fashioncapital.co.uk of any changes to your contact details as designers have been trying to contact your Unit on the phone number given on The Manufacturer's Online Showroom but cannot as this is a fax number. The Showroom is there to help bring business to your company and more than a few designers have contacted Fashion Enter to try and speak to you. Please can you email me any changes that have been made to your company,

Thanks,

Emily
