The S/S 09 selling season is already around the corner. Those prepared will fair well, those who are not will not take many orders as it is pretty tough out there for retailers right now. For the 1st 10 womens designers to respond, I will send to you my full renowned buyer info pack plus my 450 store/boutique/buyer database plus a copy of fully certified & legalised terms & conditions (which you must have on the back of your orders for full protection) This will give you guys a major headstart on the competition because buyers are cutting budgets this season.

Don't second guess, don't delay! contact me on

Hello Renato

I have read your information recently and am interested in what you have to offer,depending on costs etc
