

---

WANTED: freelance womenswear applique/emb designer

Posted by faye - 2008/06/09 15:17

---

I am searching for a freelance embroidery/applique designer who specialises in neckline designs for the classic lady! I need someone who has worked with the highstreet and understands how to deal with factories overseas. Please reply, and I will arrange interviews/CV's to be seen.

=====

Re:WANTED: freelance womenswear applique/emb desig

Posted by rakheebhulawala - 2008/06/11 13:30

---

Hi,
Having relocated to London, England I am now seeking to further my career in the UK fashion industry. I have worked for six years in the Mumbai (India) fashion industry, primarily as an Assistant Fashion Designer. My strength lies in designing and merchandising women's wear and that I have excellent experience in embroidery (both hand and machine), prints, texturing, sourcing, mood boards and selecting different kinds of fabrics and trimmings.

I do not have any experience in UK but I can show you some of my work samples.

Thanks

=====

Re:WANTED: freelance womenswear applique/emb desig

Posted by noush - 2008/06/13 10:18

---

hellow
just read ya profile could you pls send your Cv along with your latest portfolio of work @ noush_aummar@hotmail.com
.
thanks
NOUSH AUMMAR

=====

Re:WANTED: freelance womenswear applique/emb designer

Posted by neo - 2008/08/03 14:30

---

Hi!

I am interested in working as a freelancer designer for your company. Currently I am moving to Stuttgart, Germany due to my bf's expatriate contract. We will be staying there for 3 years.

Is it possible if I am living in Stuttgart, Germany and working for your company? Pls let me know so that I could prepare my portfolio to show you. Thank you so much!!!

From, neo

=====