Looking For Fashion Designer Job

Posted by John Love (imported from previous forums) - 2004/03/02 10:39

Some time ago I was in Knightsbridge, and I passed a shop one of the many small couture shops in Beacham Place, and saw a notice in the window for a freelance window dresser. After chatting to these people I discovered that they and many others like them are almost always looking for students and graduates to work for them for "pocket money" I would suggest that if you are looking for this kind of experience take a trip to knightsbridge and have a chat with the owners of the type of shop you fancy.

My preference would be to write to Harrods and John Lewis in the first instance and then pop in to the shops and speak to the managers of the department and ask if they can help you. johnlove@lovetofashionclub.com
