Do you specialize in designing fashion fabrics?

I specialize in that field, and also design and produce huge organic floral corsages. If you are taking on people to work within your business i would be very interested in being a part of that design team.

After many years in the fashion industry as designers and pattern cutters working for high end to high street, we have decided to provide individuals with the training needed to enter the fashion industry after much demand from past clients who have left college with no industry experience. You will have the opportunity to test your knowledge as we have contacts with fashion companies. You will be encouraged to find employment to underpin the training given. The training will be tailored to all levels. This training is for a limited time only!!!!

Hi there

I'm desperate to secure a place within a design enviroment, I studied Fashion and Textiles at south east essex college, but textile is my forta, surface pattern. I've had work experience in the past, for John Richmond and recently finished a work placement for a new women's wear label designing prints, which I loved doing, I thought that they would offer me a job, but sadly the company fell through. I'm doing a business course at present, because I would like to start up my own online boutique selling printed fabrics.

If your interrested in a very keen fresh textile design artist that could maybe add to what you got going on, whether it be garments or accessories I could design some funky patterns for you (to brief)

Look froward to hearing from you
Kind regard
Donna

HEY!

I am an A level student looking for practical paid work or work experience/internships with a fashion company in London. I take both art and textiles and so do have experience of both fields. I am trying to build my portfolio as I will be attending either Central St Martins or Chelsea next year for an art foundation course. I own a sewing machine and so in my spare time I design clothes. I also do illustration and produce samples, tonal drawing and sewing by hand, beading...the list goes on. Detail is very important to me. Anyway contact me via email Roshannah999@yahoo.com or just send me a message if interested! Im basically willing to do anything at this stage, I would like to experiment in every area of fashion.

Thanks!

Shana
