Hi there

I am a third year fashion journalism student currently at the London College of Fashion. For my final project, I have to create a whole magazine and definately need make up peeps to help me out! I am doing a male parenting mag - GQ style, slick and stylish. Will be doing quite a few fashion shoots. Will be using women as well, so if you're interested in helping me out, that would be so great. The actual work wont be carried out until later this year/early 2006 as I am still in the process in planning it. Let me know if you can help- email me on princesskyrsty@hotmail.com. cheers kx :)
