
STYLISTS / JOURNALISTS NEEDED!!

Posted by kyrstyjade - 2005/10/27 11:26

Hi everyone

My name is Kyrsty Hazell and I am a third year fashion journalism student at the London College of Fashion. I am currently planning my final project, which is to create my own magazine from scratch and I am in need of stylists/ photographers/ models/ journalists/graphic designers -both men and women. This will be a great opportunity, especially for peeps wanting to get their work published, as it will end up as a 1000 page glossy magazine with all work in to show potential employers in the future. I am a student with lack of money, so if you could provide your services for a SMALL fee if required, then that would be great. The magazine is a student based project at the moment, but hopefully once it is finished, I will try and commission it to go live - fingers crossed!! If you are interested, please do get in touch with me via email or to my mobile and I will gladly tell you more about the magazine.

Email: princesskyrsty@hotmail.com or call me on 07984738751.

Many Thanks!!

Kyrsty xx

Hi Krysty,

I have sent you a covering letter and my CV, I would be really interested in doing some journalism work for you. I am currently in my second year of a BA honours Fashion Degree and am desperately after some Fashion PR and Journalism experience, please contact me on 07958523116, I would not be asking for a fee just travel costs. :laugh:
