
Soon starting a new fashion Label!

Posted by Vialucci - 2006/02/02 12:32

Hello

I am lookin to start my own Fashion Label along with my Photography and Model Management company.

I do not want to get caught up in the whole seasons designs etc but i am looking to get together a few different styles of each of the following and make them to order to start..

Mens suits

Ladies Underwear

Evening dresses

Possibly then to start other lines.

I want the quality and style to be paramount.

I am looking to use the Vialucci name on the clothes so i would be looking for anyone in fashion/illustration/cutting etc to get in contact. I am not bothered where you are in your career be it from a warehouse,shop or even bedroom.

As i am looking to use my name on the clothes this would obviously suit someone in College/Uni that doesn't only want to push their own name (Although if you are fine with doing my named clothes as well i am fine with that)

OR if you want to start this venture with me using the 'Vialucci' name then we can work and split profits 50/50.

So basically anybody interested in fashion/illustration/cutting etc that would like to help me start-up and sell through an online company to start please get intouch with your details etc.

Kind Regards,

James Theo-Vialucci

Hi James,

I can recommend Shikara fashions, they will be able to help you with the whole process of producing your collection from design to sampling to finished garment.

you can contact them at shikarafashion@yahoo.co.uk or on (+44) 79401 28959

Send them an email or drop them a line and explain what you have in mind, I am sure they will be able to help you as this is what I have found from my own experience.

Kind Regards

James
