
Experienced Menswear Designer

Posted by magica - 2006/08/15 00:59

Hi, I'm a experienced and creative fashion/ apparel designer specialising in Menswear. I have 8 years commercial design experience within the Mens/ Boys sector.

I have designed for the leading UK high street fashion retailers & stores, independant names and well-known brands.

I am currently freelancing and would be interested to engage in further exciting design opportunities.

I am able to produce cads, garment designs and graphic designs to your requirements from home. All my work is professionally presented and created in illustrator/ photoshop/ freehand.

I am based in the North West. Should you require further information, please feel free to contact me. I am available for short, one-off or long term projects (even permanent or temporary roles).

Please email me on: mensdesigner@hotmail.com

Thanks! ;)

Hi

I read your add on fashion capital. I am a recruiter looking for a mens shirt designer for a client of mine based just outside London, the role is a full time position. Should London be ok for you please either call me or send your CV to colin@burlingtons.co.uk or call me on 0870 351 4280 or mobile 07967 344 921

kind regards

colin hart
