
dressmaking and alterations services

Posted by mmartin8 - 2008/05/07 12:16

Is there any companies out there looking for an out worker in alterations or dressmaking services. I am a fashion designer in womens wear, looking for extra freelance work in alterations and dressmaking for women, and children. I also specialise in alteration services for men.

I offer services where I collect the necessary designs/outfits and deliver. I offer advice on fabrics and styles to suit the individual person, I do fittings and make sure that you look great for whatever occasion.

I am based in London so can travel within the Central London areas. I offer very reasonable rates for alteration and dressmaking services and all work is finished to a very high standard. Please contact me to discuss further.
